HAND LOOM & ECO-PRINTED KALA COTTON STOLE

Kala cotton stole is hand-dyed with flowers, kitchen waste and natural dyes. Kala cotton stole is a hand loom - woven cotton comes from the culturally rich district of Kutch in Gujarat, it is grown in Kutch, spun in Kutch and woven in Kutch. It is one of the most water efficient cotton in the world. Unlike a lot of new-world cotton, it doesn't require any irrigation. It is purely rain-fed. It doesn't require any fertilizer or pesticides, hence it is an organic and almost carbon-neutral variety of cotton. After sourcing the fabric, our kala cotton stole is naturally dyed and printed with natural dyes and temple flowers.

OCEAN BOTTLE

Each Ocean Bottle funds the collection of 1,000 plastic bottles in weight before they enter the ocean. Plastic is collected by locals in areas of the world lacking waste management infrastructure. Through our partner Plastic Bank, collectors exchange plastic waste for things they need such as tuition, money, healthcare, tech goods, and micro finance. Dual opening for easy drinking, 180 percent twist anti-leak lids. Chuck in water, juice, tea, smoothies, its all good. Keep your drink cold for 18 hours and hot for 9 hours, regardless of outside temperature. Double wall also means there is no "sweat" feeling from condensation on the outside of the bottle. We have designed our bottles to last a lifetime, from recycled stainless steel, upcycled plastic and other non composite materials. An Ocean Bottle is fully recyclable at the end of its life, just take it apart and put it in the recommended bins.

A close-up photograph of a hand moving a white chess piece on a wooden board. A dark horizontal bar with the word "Games" is overlaid across the center. The image shows a hand lifting a white chess piece, likely a knight, from a square on the board. In the foreground, a dark brown chess piece, possibly a pawn, stands on an adjacent square. The background is softly blurred, showing other chess pieces and the wooden texture of the board. The lighting is warm and focused on the hand and the pieces being moved.
